IT is said that it is not improbable that the New York Tribune, Times, Herald, and World will soon reduce their price from four cents to three cents per copy, as such two-cent papers as the Standard, Star, and Sun are drawing off their subscribers. Such a reduction, if made at the present price of paper and labor, will entail a heavy loss.

MAKING new potatoes is a Parisian industry. Old potatoes, the smallest and cheapest that can be obtained, are put into tubs half filled with water, and trodden by the bare-footed rafistoleurs until they have not only completely rubbed off their dark skins, but have also given them that smooth and satin-like appearance which is so much appreciated by gourmands. They are then dried, neatly wrapped in paper, and arranged in small baskets, which are sold at the Marchands de Comestibles for 5f. apiece.

ON the evening of May 21, a most lamentable accident occurred to the family of Mrs. Fletcher, widow of the late Thompson Fletcher, about five miles below Bath, Illinois. Mrs. Fletcher, while attending to the wants of her little boy, who was unwell, called for a lamp. A common coal-oil lamp was conveyed by her daughter. Upon reaching the bed the lamp exploded, instantly wrapping the three persons in flame. The girl was so badly burned that she expired in about one hour. Mrs. Fletcher died the next day. The boy was very severely burned, but is improving.

THE Titusville Herald says David Reordon, a man of family, and Andrew Mack, single, started on a hand car from their home, a few miles above Scrubgrass, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, Friday morning, the 3d instant, for their work upon the road. At a sharp curve, near Brandon's Ferry, they met an extra up freight train, but so near that they could not get their car from the track, and jumped to save themselves. The locomotive struck the hand car throwing it clear from the track and upon the two unfortunate men. Mack was instantly killed, Reordon lingered till afternoon.

THE San Francisco Bulletin says. A house was burned about fourteen miles from Knight's Landing, on Hughes' ranch, in which Hughes' four young children and a young lady sixteen years of age, Miss Emma Wright, a sister of Mrs. Hughes, were all burned to death. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes had gone to Sacramento to consult a physician regarding Mrs. Hughes' health. The children were left in charge of the young lady, and two young men slept on the place, but the night being warm, they (the men) went out and slept in the hay, some distance from the house. The fire was discovered by them about two o'clock A. M., but too late to do any good. The body of Miss Wright was found near the door with one of the children in her arms. No alarm was given and the house was nearly destroyed before the fire was discovered by any one outside. How it originated must ever remain a mystery.

The Mutual Life Insurance of New York.

Our readers have no doubt heard of the many rumors in circulation in regard to the management of this reliable and well managed Company. We take pleasure in laying before our readers some extracts of the Superintendent of Insurance Companies for the State of New York, relating to this Company. The many thousands insured in this Company will read with pleasure the following

EXTRACTS FROM REPORT.

Every effort has been made to make the investigation thorough and complete. It has been continued through a period of about three months. Over six hundred foolscap pages of testimony have been taken, and the books of every description, as well as the assets of the Company, have been carefully examined.

Having undertaken the examination of the affairs of this great Company (besides the special charges already considered), I have continued it until, by a personal inspection of the assets, and a general investigation of the method of business, as well as a review of the history of the Company, I feel prepared to declare, as my opinion, that the condition and standing of The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is such as entitles it to the confidence of the public, and the high position it has so long occupied; that it has acquired this leading and magnificent position is most unquestionably in a great measure due to the efficiency, ability and fidelity of those entrusted with its management. It was organized by special act in 1842, and was the first Mutual Life Insurance Company of this State. The present chief executive officer, Mr. Frederick S. Winston, became its president in 1853, at which time the assets of the Company amounted to $2,018,776. The number of policies then in force was 6,773, insuring the amount of $17,556,133. On the first of January, 1870, the assets of the Company had increased to the enormous sum of $37,579,169. The number of policies then in force was 68,072, insuring $236,943,902. The income of the Company for the year 1869 was about $15,000,000. Of the assets, over $27,000,000 are invested in bonds and mortgages upon real estate, all, except about $2,000,000 in New Jersey, being upon real estate situate in this State. The assets of the Company were found to correspond with its annual statement thereof made to the Insurance Department. They are of the highest order of securities, and have been safely kept. It is a fact worthy of remark that the strictest scrutiny into the management of this Company during the past sixteen or seventeen years, during which a vast amount of business has been done, and such immense sums of money have been received and invested, not one dollar is discovered to have been lost by the embezzlement, defalcation, or breach of trust of any officer or trustee. It is, perhaps, not strange that such success should excite not only generous rivalry in this great field of business enterprise, but also some jealousy as well as personal animosities and criticisms. It is to be regretted that in any case the officers or agents of one company should resort to the vilification of another company or its officers, with a view to advancing the interests of their own company or themselves. If there are charges affecting the standing of a company, or the legality of its management seriously made upon prima facia, reasonable grounds to the superintendent, he will, as in this case, deem it his duty as soon as practicable to investigate them. In making these remarks no reference is had to any company or person in particular. They are merely aimed generally at what I have conceived to be a pernicious practice.

In concluding this report, I would say that I entered upon this examination certainly not pre-disposed to extend any special favor to the Company, but fully determined to probe to the bottom all complaints, and so far as I was able to mete out equal and exact justice. This to the best of ability, I have done. Personal examinations of the affairs of the Companies will be more frequent under the present than they were under the late administration of the Insurance Department. It will be gratifying if those examinations disclose no greater irregularities, nor cause more serious apprehensions for the future Companies examined than this has done. If any of our Life Insurance Companies are sound and reliable, the Mutual Life must be one of them.

In language which I have before used, I will only add, my examination has satisfied me that the Company has been managed with peculiar ability and integrity, and that its condition is eminently sound.

GEORGE W. MILLER,
Superintendent.

State of New York Insurance Department, Albany, May 28, 1870.

OVER THE CATARACT.

Eighteen Indians Gone to their Death --Stoicism of the Braves--Fighting the Pale Face to the Bitter End.

A letter to the Omaha Herald, dated "Old Militia Camp, on the Yellowstone, May 11," says:

A party composed of Jules Farrar, Pierre Bernard, Ike Hedges, George Henden, a Crow Indian, and the undersigned, left this place on the 13th of March, for a trip to the almost unknown falls of the Yellowstone.

On the 2d of April, about ten A. M., we halted at the base of some foot-hills, there being some signs of gold, and commenced sinking a hole. We had not proceeded long with our work before we were startled by seeing our Crow Indian running swiftly towards us. He reported a small band of Indians, known as the "Sheep Eaters," distant about four miles above, and in the same canon. We felt no great uneasiness, however, knowing full well that with our improved fire arms we would be enabled to overcome fifty of the sneaking red devils.

The same night our pack horses, three in number, were run off by the "Sheep Eaters;" we started in pursuit before daylight, and the sun was not more than fifteen minutes high when we struck their trail. From the appearance of the same, it was evident that they had at least four hours the start of us. Upon questioning our guide we ascertained that the valley we were in, and which their trail followed, was bordered on both sides by precipitous mountains, and there was no possible mode of egress save by the upper end of the valley, which opened to the Yellowstone but a short distance above one of the falls.

No sooner was this information elicited than away we sped in pursuit. After nearly three hours' sharp riding we came upon the band, and in such a manner as to cause us some surprise, about midway in the stream, where could be seen a hastily constructed raft, composed of driftwood joined together by thongs made of buckskin and buffalo robes. Upon this strange craft were seen in the center thirteen braves, while five squaws were essaying to paddle the unwieldy craft to the opposite shore, with pieces of bark as substitutes for paddles. Our pack-horses were in the river, as also were the Indian ponies. Four of the latter reached the opposite shore.

This strange sight bursting upon our view rendered us, for the time being, incapable of action. At a glance we could see that they were gradually going down stream, despite the efforts of the squaws, and although our senses for the moment forsook us, the sharp crack of a rifle and the yell of a "Sheep Eater" told that the equanimity of our Crow guide was well preserved. At this juncture Pierre Bernard shouted out, "For God's sake, boys, don't murder them; they are bound to go over the falls." We looked, and a sight met our gaze which was fearfully impressive.

The raft having been caught in an eddy not a vestige of it was to be seen, it having sunk several inches below the surface, and the Indians seemed to be like so many weird spirits floating on the rushing waters. One of the Indians rose, and bending his bow, shot our Crow through the arm. The shot was returned, and again a yell of pain was heard proceeding from a "Sheep Eater." Bernard then told the Crow, in his own dialect, to stop firing, but he paid no attention to the command. Again he raised his rifle, but a lariat skillfully thrown by Pierre held him fast. The scene now presented was one which those who witnessed will not forget to their dying day.

The mid-channel, in which they were now swiftly gliding down, seemed to be clear of obstructions, while on either side jagged rocks peered out from the foaming water. When about fifty yards below where we were standing, an old Indian arose and stood erect in the center of a circle of braves. He spoke a few words, turned his face toward the sun and seemingly bade it farewell; then wrapping his robe around him he sat down. The squaws immediately flung their pieces of bark into the river, threw themselves on the submerged raft and commenced pulling out their long tresses, in the meanwhile screaming and howling more like demons than human beings.

Indians seated in the circle shook hands and then commenced wailing their always mournful death song. Nearer, nearer they approached the fearful abyss, still not a movement was perceptible on the part of the braves. They sat as immovable as statues, and did not quake with fear at the near approach of the King of Terrors. As they shot swiftly down the stream, our party instinctively raised their hats while looking at them, and I doubt if there was one except the Crow who did not show signs of visible emotion.

We turn from the spot with indescribable feelings. As we take our last look upon the treacherous stream where eighteen mortals passed from life to death, we discern hovering over the fatal precipice two huge eagles, whose screams resound above the noise of the waters. The roar of the cataract, and the eagles' screams, what a fit requiem for these departed red children.

THE St. Louis Democrat says: "At two o'clock yesterday afternoon a large swarm of bees visited the city. As they were passing over Fifth street, between Myrtle and Elm, the jingling of the bells of a street car arrested their progress, and the whole colony settled on the limb of an ailanthus tree that projected over the sidewalk. The weight of the swarm caused the limb to break, and the little busybodies were precipitated to the sidewalk. Imagining that an attack had been made upon them by the passengers in the car, they flew upon the horses and men, stinging them severely. The horses did not wait for the order of going, but went at full speed, while some of the passengers took to their heels. Persons passing on the street were also attacked, and there were many exclamations of 'Shoo fly!' as the smarting pedestrians made frantic efforts to brush the enemy from their heads and faces. Several ladies were seen gathering their skirts close around them, and getting out of the way by hasty walking. Several bees became entangled in a lady's waterfall, and it was hard to tell which was the worst scared—the bees or the lady. A colored man captured the swarm by spreading a sheet upon the ground; the bees all crowded into the sheet, and were carried away by the colored bee charmer."

A Cuban Privateer Sails from England—Discussion of the King Question in the Spanish Cortes—The Breach in the Left Party in the French Corps Legislatif—France Joins Prussia in Warning the Council at Rome—Secret Political Movement at Leghorn, Italy.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 7.—The Admiralty authorities here are considerably excited over the departure of a suspicious steamer—the Chieftain—which sailed shortly since on an ostensible mercantile voyage to Japan, but which cleverly eluded the vigilance of the admiralty and is now afloat as a formidable accession to the Cuban insurgent navy. Her appearance, and the correctness of her clearance papers, disabused the minds of the authorities of any doubts as to her peaceful nature, though the unusually heavy nature of her armament excited suspicion, which was explained by the Commander stating that they feared a collision with Japanese pirates, and, therefore, had taken this precaution. Upon these representations she was allowed to depart. Quickly following came a startling rumor, which has been fully corroborated, that the vessel was afloat under the Cuban insurgent flag. Immediate steps have been taken to prevent her success in her new career of pillage and ruin to Spanish commerce. Telegrams were immediately dispatched to the British Consul at Havana, giving a description of her appearance and the war-like nature of her errand.

BOMBAY, June 6, via LONDON.—The prospect of the cotton crop is improving. Heavy rains have fallen in the planting districts and apprehensions of a short crop are removed.

SPAIN.

MADRID, June 7.—The debate on the question of electing a King commenced in the Cortes yesterday. It opens with animation and bids fair to be exciting. The most prominent among the speakers yesterday was Rivero. He created a marked sensation by declaring that the restoration of the Bourbons in Spain would never be permitted by the majority. He then denounced monarchy in general, maintaining it had produced the evils from which Spain suffered. The speech was received with frequent cheers, and had an undeniable effect on members. Replies were made by the supporters of royalty. The discussion lasted until a late hour, when, without action, the Cortes adjourned.

To-day the Cortes was engaged in the consideration of various railroad schemes.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 8.—The breach in the party of the Left in the Corps Legislatif is complete. Differences of opinion as to the attitude toward the Ollivier ministry led to the separation.

General Mellinet has been re-elected Grand Master of the Masonic order in France by 160 votes. Carnat, formerly Republican deputy to the Corps Legislatif, was also a candidate and received 125 votes.

BERLIN, June 7.—Benidette, the French Minister, has tendered the Prussian Foreign office official communication relative to the course of Prussia towards Rome. The French government approves of and sympathizes with the action of Prussia in warning the Council against the introduction of any ecclesiastical disturbing element calculated to cause difficulties between the government and clergy.

TORONTO, June 7.—It is stated that one hundred Chicago Fenians have threatened a raid on the camp at Sault St. Marie. Preparations having been made to meet them, it is believed they have decided to go to Duluth.

Intelligence is received from Fort Garry that a large meeting of French settlers was held at White Horse Plains, when fighting and resistance to the Red River expedition was unanimously favored. It is believed a declaration of independence will be issued. Reil is making no preparations to oppose the expedition. The Manitoba bill will probably be adopted by the Red River Legislature.

Fearful Occurrence in Minnesota.

CHICAGO, June 7.—A special says that last evening in Scott county, Minn., near Shakopee, a farmer named Nacy, who had been to Shakopee during the day, went home at night quite drunk, as usual, seized a knife and killed his little daughter in a most savage manner. He then made a rush for his wife with the intention of slaughtering her. Nacy's son, a youth of eighteen, seeing the peril of his mother, seized a gun and shot the drunken fiend dead in his tracks. The lad went immediately to Shakopee and gave himself up to the authorities.

The Senate set apart Tuesday next, 14th for the consideration of business from the Committee on Commerce, and the bill for the apportionment of Representatives in Congress among the States was made the special order for Thursday, 9th.

The bill authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to change the boundaries of land districts without increasing the number, passed.

The proposed amendment of the rules, by providing for calling the previous question in the Senate, etc., was discussed until one o'clock.

The Indian appropriation bill was taken up.

Mr. CHANDLER moved to pass the bill over so as to take up the bill for a through railroad line to New York and the Chattanooga and Cincinnati Railroad bill.

Not agreed to, and the Indian appropriation bill was proceeded with.

Mr. POMEROY offered as an amendment the bill for the removal of the Osage Indians in Kansas, the sale of their reservation to actual settlers at $1,25 per acre and settlement of the tribe in the Indian country.

Mr. DAVIS inquired whether there was any stealage in the bill.

Mr. POMEROY replied that if there was the Committee on Indian Affairs should have found it out. He did not know of any.

Mr. DAVIS said he would admit, if Mr. Pomeroy did not know of any stealage in the bill, there must be none.

Mr. MORRILL offered an amendment that the lands disposed of at $1,25 per acre be for the benefit of Indians, and providing homes for them.

Mr. MORTON believed the reservation system a failure.

Mr. Morrill's amendment was lost—17 to 25.

After the Executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The bill making Kansas City, Mo., a port of delivery, was passed.

The bill authorizing terms of courts to be held at Helena, Ark., was passed.

The bill regulating the payment of members in cases of contested elections was taken up.

Mr. DAWES favored the principle of the bill to pay only half compensation to the sitting member whose seat was contested until the contest was decided. Within twelve years $179,000 had been paid to persons who had no right to a dollar of public money and the present Congress had paid $150,000 more, besides having to appoint five different Committees on Contested Seats.

Mr. WILLARD favored paying only the member proving his right to a seat.

Mr. MARSHALL opposed the bill on the ground that it would increase the evil.

Finally the bill was laid on the table—90 to 80.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported by Mr. Garfield, from the Committee on Banking, to increase the banking facilities and for other purposes.

Mr. GARFIELD addressed the House in explanation and advocacy of the bill. After discussing the general subject of distinction between coin and paper money, he quoted from Robert Patterson, of Scotland, to show that the paper currency of the United Kingdom had been practically stationary for twenty-five years, and that the wealth and trade of the kingdom had quadrupled in that time. The principal instrument of British trade was the check or draft on bank, not five per cent. of the business being transacted in coin or paper money, and ninety-five per centum being transacted through the banks in drafts, bills and transfer of credit, and this remarkable fact showed that the bank was to-day the great mechanism for facilitating trade rather than coin or notes. He believed the first great want of the country was a sound currency exchangable into coin at pleasure. But as that was impossible at present, and beyond his aspirations, he would say that the second great want of the country was increased facilities for making exchanges, whether in the form of paper notes or banking credits. That was the great and pressing demand of the hour. He replied to the argument as to the distribution of currency, arguing that no matter how distributed it would flow in channels regulated by the laws of trade, and could not be regulated by any absolute provisions of statute laws. He continued at length in advocacy of the merits of the bill, and in reply to objections made thereto.

Mr. COX opposed the bill in all its parts.

Various amendments were offered and ordered printed.

Mr. SMITH, of Vermont, supported the bill.

Mr. MORGAN made an argument against it, and called on the Southern and Western members to combine against Eastern bond holders and defeat this bill.

Mr. LYNCH introduced a joint resolution removing the navy yard from Charlestown, Mass., to Kittery, Maine.

The Senate amendment authorizing increased pay to census takers was passed.

The House took recess until evening to debate the Currency bill.

Evening Session.—But few members were present. Several prepared speeches on the Currency bill were read or ordered printed. The proceedings had no public interest. Adjourned.

—Two girls named Laney Barker and Lavina Lundery, aged twelve and fourteen, were drowned at Cuba, Illinois, Monday, while bathing in Putnam Creek. Both bodies were soon recovered.

—At the meeting of the American Baptists Free Mission Society at Cincinnati, yesterday, officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. James Poindexter, colored; Recording Secretary and Treasurer, Wm. Howe; Corresponding Secretary, Nathan Brown.

—A private dispatch from M. Cremieux, the Priest of the Jewish alliance in Paris, says of the reported masacre in Roumania that the Jews are expelled, plundered and terribly maltreated, with numbers wounded, and some probably killed. This is the first authentic intelligence received of the outrages.

—Robert M. Douglas, son of the statesman, Stephen A. Douglas, has commenced suit against several parties to recover possession of property in the southern portion of Chicago, formerly belonging to the Douglas estate, claiming it on a defective title. The property is covered with costly houses, and is worth many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

—The International Typographical Union, in session at Cincinnati, yesterday adopted a resolution discountenancing the plan of some of the subordinate Unions giving their printing to the lowest bidder. The delegates went into secret session, remaining until one o'clock, after which they resumed open session, and without transacting further important business, adjourned until to-day.

Accommodations are making to carry thirty thousand persons to the pic nic on Sunday at the close of the festival.

—The enlargment of the Miami and Erie Canal is being agitated at Cincinnati more than ever before. A convention will doubtless be called soon to discuss the different plans of the improvement. Gen. Cowen, Chairman of the Committee on Canals, has submitted an important report to the Board of Trade, setting forth that transportaion would be reduced nearly fifty per cent. by the improvement.

—A Washington dispatch says: An informal canvass of the House shows that Whittemore will hardly get his seat to which his negro constituents have returned him. The members generally say they can't consistently vote to admit him when they have voted at the same session that he was unworthy to represent the people in Congress. General Logan said that Whittemore's re-election was an insult to the House.

—The returns from the Oregon election are meagre. The indications are that the Legislative contest is close. The returns indicate that Grove, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is elected by about four hundred majority. The Portland telegrams say that the election passed off quietly, the city and county going Republican by about three hundred majority. The State is considered very close, the Republicans gaining several counties.

—Letters from Yarini, Turkey, report the extirpation of a band of brigands in that district, formed of twenty-seven men who had belonged to the band of Basha Basook, now disbanded. A body of troops was sent to hunt them down, and the local authorities and inhabitants rendered them all the assistance in their power. The two chiefs, Yussuf Garovik and D. J. Emal; were taken alive, with five of their comrades, in the neighborhood of Ghoura, and fourteen were killed in an engagement with the troops.

WASHINGTON, June 7, 1870.

ARMY ORDER.

An army order instructs commanders to keep intruders off Indian lands until Indian titles thereto are extinguished.

NOMINATIONS.

The President to-day nominated to the Senate Jas. B. Delford, of Indiana, Associate Justice of Supreme Court of Colorado; Sam'l. D. Houston, Receiver of Public Money at Junction City, Kansas; O. B. Lawrence, Postmaster at Burlingame, Kansas.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate in executive session to-day confirmed the following nominations: E. Peshine Smith, Examiner of Claims in State Department; G. Marston, of New Hampshire, Governor of Idaho; Andrew Aken, Register of Land Office, District of Kansas; W. A. Shannon, Receiver of public money, same District; Lamon N. Judd, Register of Land Office, Springfield, Dakota; Gabriel B. Gersberg, Receiver of same District; Enos Stedman, Register, Pembina, Dakota; George F. Potter, Receiver same District; Samuel D. Houston, Receiver, Junction City, Kansas; Lewis C. Rockwell, Attorney, Colorado Territory; W. H. West, Consul at Rio Janeiro; Assessor Internal Revenue, Henry W. Smith, Seventh District of Ohio; Collector Internal Revenue, Horatio Woodbury, Second District, Indiana; Postmasters, Susan H. Burbridge, Hopkinsville, Kentucky; James B. Stover, Akron, Iowa; George Gidds, Johnstown, Iowa.

SAN DOMINGO INVESTIGATION.

In executive session of the Senate yesterday, Mr. Schurz submitted a resolution authorizing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire into the history and character of negotiations for the purchase of San Domingo by the United States government, and the circumstances attending them; also to make investigation of the truth of the current statements relative to franchise, grants of land, &c., dependent upon the ratification of said treaty, the committee to have power to send for persons and papers. Objection being made, the resolution went over under the rules.

FURTHER CONSIDERED AND REJECTED.

After confirming nominations the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the resolution offered by Mr. Schurz yesterday, directing the Committee on Foreign Relations to investigate the history of negotiations for the San Domingo treaty. An animated debate ensued, in the course of which the resolution and its probable effect was discussed and characterized in somewhat heated terms. It was charged by opponents and denied by advocates that it was designed to prejudice the treaty and delay action thereon until after the date fixed for the exchange of ratifications. It was also argued that the desired information could be obtained in other ways which would not involve the danger of defeating the treaty by mere delay or indirections. Finally the resolution was tabled by a very close vote. Messrs. Morton, Chandler and Howard were the principal speakers against, and Messrs. Schurz and Sumner in its favor. The debate lasted nearly two hours and developed a much more favorable feeling towards the treaty than heretofore.

COUNCIL WITH INDIANS.

The Secretary of the Interior, Commissioner Parker, General Smith and Messrs. Colyer and Brunot met Red Cloud and other Indian delegates to-day in a grand council. The Indians were rigged in full finery, and seemed impressed with the importance of the council. Secretary Cox made a long address to the Indians on behalf of the President, assuring them that if they would go to their reservations and keep peace, all rations and goods promised would be sent by the Government, and an agent sent to them to see that they got everything. In regard to giving them arms and ammunition, the Secretary said they would not be given them at present, but after they have kept themselves peaceable on reservations for a time these would be furnished.

Red Cloud replied, saying the white people had constantly crowded the red man; that the Great Father may be good and kind, but he did not see it; that the people of the Great Father had left them nothing but an island. He said blood was on the grass about the line of Fort Fetterman. Tell the Great Father to remove that fort, then we will be peaceable; there will be no more trouble. He wants no roads on Black Hills or Big Horn Mountains, and wanted the stakes now there removed. He demanded ammunition, asking if the great nation was afraid of him. He only wanted it to kill game. He supposed he must go to farming, but don't want to just yet. His remarks elicited commendatory grunts from the Indians present.

Little Bear followed, complaining of bad treatment.

Secretary Cox promised their complaints should be attended to by the Great Father.

RED CLOUD'S SPEECH.

Red Cloud shook hands with those at the table in the council room, and delivered the following oration:

"I came from where the sun sets. You were raised on chairs. I want to sit where the sun sets. [Here the Indian warrior sat upon the floor, Indian fashion, and proceeded.] The Great Spirit has raised me this way. He raised me naked. I run no opposition to the Great Father who sits in the White House. I don't want to fight. I have offered my prayer to the Great Father, so that I might come here safe and well. What I have to say to you and to these men, and to my Great Father, is this: Look at me. I was raised where the sun rises, and I come from where he sets. Whose voice was first heard in this land? It was the Red people who raised the bow. The Great Father may be good and kind, but I can't see it. I am good and kind to white people, and have given my lands, and have now come from where the sun sets to see you. The Great Father has sent his people out there and left me nothing but an island. Our nation is melting away like snow on the side of the hills where the sun is warm, while your people are like the blades of grass in spring when summer is coming. I don't want to see the white people making roads in our country. Now that I have come into my Great Father's land, see if I have any blood when I return home. The white people have sprinkled blood on the blades of glass about the line of Fort Fetterman. Tell the Great Father to remove that fort, then we will be peaceful and there will be no more troubles. I have got two mountains in that country—Black Hills and Big Horn. I want no roads there. There have been stakes driven in that country and I want them removed. I have told these things three times, and now have come here to tell them for the fourth time. I have made up my mind to talk away. I don't want any reservation on the Missouri, the home of these people. I hear that my children and old men are dying off like sheep. The country don't suit them. I was born at the forks of the Platte. My father and mother told me that the land there belonged to me. From the north and west the red nation has come into the Great Father's house. We are the last of the Ogallalas. We have come to know the facts from our Father. Why have the promises which have been made to us not been kept? I want two or three traders that we ask for. At the mouth of Horse Creek, in 1852, there was a treaty made and the man who made the treaty [alluding to General Mitchell, who performed that service for the Government,] told me the truth. The goods which have been sent out to me have been stolen along the road, and only a handful would reach me to go among my nation. Look at me here. I am poor and naked. I was not raised with arms, and always want to be peaceable. The Great Spirit has raised you to read and write, has put papers before you, but he has not raised me in that way. The men whom the President sends us, soldiers and all, have no sense and no heart. I know it to-day. I didn't ask that the whites should go through my country, killing game, and it is the Great Father's fault. You are the people who should keep peace. For the railroads you are passing through my country I have not received even so much as a brass ring, for the land they occupy. I wish you to tell that to my Great Father. You whites make all the ammunition. What is the reason you don't give it to me? Are you afraid I am going to war? You are great and powerful, and I am only a handful. I do not want it for that purpose, but to kill game with. I suppose I must in time go to farming, but I can't do it right away."

THE CURRENCY BILL.

An amendment offered by Mr. Coburn to the Currency bill provides, first, that the banking capital be increased fifty millions on the present basis; second, for the re-distribution of fifty millions; and third, for the issue of forty-four millions of United States notes as a substitute for the three per cent bank reserves.

MEXICAN CLAIMS COMMISSION.

The mixed commission for the settlement of claims between Mexico and the United States will resume session next Monday. Some cases which have been prepared during the month's recess will be then considered. There are upward of two thousand claims which may occupy five years in adjudication.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The Reconstruction Committee this morning attached to the Georgia bill a proviso that nothing therein should interfere with an election in Georgia this fall, as provided by the Georgia Constitution. The committee resolved to postpone action with regard to Tennessee until next session.

CHICAGO, June 7.—The twenty-fourth annual session of the American Institute of Homeopathy was opened at Crosby's Music Hall this morning at ten o'clock. Dr. David Thayer, President, called the Institute to order. A welcome address was made by Dr. Beebe, of this city. President Thayer read his annual address, which was referred to the appropriate committee. The presentation of credentials showed nearly three hundred members present. The Secretary and Treasurer read their annual reports, which were adopted. Dr. Beebe then tendered an invitation to members to partake of a lunch at St. James Hotel, and they all repaired to the St. James dining room.

At the afternoon session papers were read by Dr. S. M. Cote, of Salem, Massachusetts, on pathological anatomy; on climatology, as affecting pulmonary complaints, by Dr. D. H. Beckwith, Cleveland; and on several other subjects by gentlemen designated for the purpose. The various papers were discussed by members.

In the evening Dr. Carroll Dunham, of New York, delivered a lecture on the freedom of medical opinion and action, a vital necessity and a great responsibility.

The Concert Last Night.

The Cathedral contained quite a large audience last night on the occasion of the grand sacred concert, given by the choir and volunteer amateur artists, assisted by the St. Cecelia Silver Cornet Band, all under the leadership of the accomplished organist of the church, Prof. Schuitt. The programme opened with a brilliant execution by the Band, after which a strong chorus, "Gloria," was rendered by some eighty voices. A trio, "Ave Maria," was exquisitely rendered by Misses O'Brien, Mooney and Mr. Cargo. In this Miss O'Brien developed much power and considerable cultivation of voice. With more experience she will take high place in the ranks of our amateur singers. Miss Mooney, an alto singer who has few superiors in this country, sang her part with force, beauty and correctness. There is something peculiarly mournful and sweet in this young lady's voice which not only pleases but thrills the soul into religious enthusiasm. Mr. Cargo fully sustained himself. The gem of the evening was a very pretty duet rendered with charming effect by Mrs. Scully and Mr. Benitz. Mrs. Scully, although she has sung so long and faithfully in the Cathedral choir, gives no evidence of decline in power or brilliancy, but sends forth her finely cultured voice to please and charm all with its ravishing sweetness. Mr. Benitz's rich, deep and free flowing notes made fine contrast with the soprano of Mrs. Scully, and added much to the effect of the duet. A trio by Miss McChristal, Messrs. Brecht and Boehm was rendered in good style, as was also a cavatina by Miss Henni and Messrs. Bussman and Benitz. Miss Henni and Miss McChristal were especially deserving of favorable mention. The rendition of Mozart's great requiem mass by all the performers was very good and produced marked impression. A fantasie on the organ by Messrs. Guenther and Pechtel betokened that master artists manipulated the keys. Altogether the concert reflected credit to all concerned and will bear repetition.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8 1870.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 53½.

BONDS at Frankfort, 95½@95⅞.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 113¼@112⅞.

UNDER the XVth Amendment provisions, John Wesley Jackson has the honor of being the first colored citizen called to sit in a jury box in our county courts. He was called in the District Court yesterday, but caste and prejudice ruled him out, he being objected from the list.

GEN. NEGLEY will receive the thanks of maimed soldiers for his strenuous exertions in the direction of supplying all such, at government expense, with artificial limbs. The Committee of Conference, appointed at his instance, have concurred in the provision allowing the maimed soldier to chose either the artificial limb, or the price in money in lieu thereof. This affords a special advantage to many who will apply for relief under the act.

L. C. HOPKINS & CO., of Cincinnati, proprietors of a mammoth retail dry goods establishment, use printer's ink liberally, judiciously and extravagantly, as is evinced by the local daily papers. During a recent stay in that city we visited the store to discover whether such enterprise paid, and found in attendance at least five hundred purchasers, and a constant stream of men, women and children was pouring in and out, making the place appear to be the grand centre of attraction. Many of our home dry goods dealers might profitably follow the example of Hopkins & Co., or write to them to discover whether advertising does or does not pay.

WHENEVER an Indian delegation comes to visit the President, the spokesman of the party makes a set speech, in which he indulges in all of the curious rhetoric and picturesque, though slightly stale, figures of speech which Cooper and all his lesser followers have found so useful in the exaggerated and romantic impossibilities of their novels. Now, as no man who learned his English from sane Americans would speak this sort of jargon intuitively and as there must, therefore, be some one who makes the speeches of the copper-colored ruffians before they deliver them, would it not be a brilliant plan to designate one or more of the Indian Commissioners or Indian ring, or somebody intimately connected with Indians, to prepare these speeches at a fixed rate, merely stipulating that Cooper and Emerson Bennet must be totally abjured, and Webster, Clay or Burke taken as models? The gain in common sense and grammar would be large.

THE following letter is one of the many of the same kind we receive from our country readers:

WEST MIDDLETOWN, June 4, 1870.

MESSRS. PENNIMAN, REED & CO.: Dear Sirs:—You will find enclosed $2. Send Daily GAZETTE three months.

P. S. I observe an editorial in the Washington Reporter of the 1st inst., stating that the GAZETTE has for some time past been worrying itself excessively over the politics of this county, &c., &c. In the course of his remarks he says that one of our Representatives, Mr. Buffington, in the course he saw proper to pursue, was very generally endorsed by the Republicans of Washington county. I can assure you that such is not the fact. If he had said that he was almost unanimously endorsed by the opposition party, he would be much nearer the facts. I live in one of the strongest Republican townships in our county, and will assert that I have found but three or four persons who would undertake to defend the said bolter. I think I might safely say that he is not endorsed by over one in twenty of the Republican voters; if he and the said editor think differently let him come out for another office and he will find where he stands.

A SUBSCRIBER.

RED CLOUD and Spotted Tail and all the other chiefs and braves who are now upon their travels have met the President and leading Senators and Foreign Ambassadors, have been received and interviewed and feted. Reviews are held for their delectation and great guns are fired for their amusement. And all this to impress them with the idea that any future attempts to overthrow and conquer the United States will be useless and foolish. In the meantime, although we are told that these men have been the leaders in all the barbarous cruelties which have horrified us from time to time for years, and are personally responsible for more murders and crimes than a dozen Probsts or Traupmans, and that they are only thus caressed and glorified because so much blood in the future may be spared, we learn that their tribes are vigorously preparing for war, and are actually indulging in preliminary attacks upon the borders, killing pioneers, stealing women and beasts and burning houses. Might it not be well now that these leaders are in our power, to hold them as hostages until their dangerous people are removed to safe reservations so placed that they can break no more of their glibly made treaties with impunity?

SACRED MUSIC.

In New York they have what are denominated Sacred Concerts, on Sunday evenings. These pious entertainments are so styled because sacred music—so called—is permitted in all American cities on every day of the week, whereas most Northern towns prohibit public entertainments of any but a religious nature upon Sunday. Last Sunday a sacred concert in the Grand Opera House had upon its programme a waltz by Strauss, airs from Offenbach and Wagner, and the Erie galop dedicated to Fiske, who is the idol of that temple. Persons who regard this as sacrilege or something akin to it are likely to cry out against it and ask why it is permitted in a Christian city where the American idea of the way to keep the Sabbath holy still predominates? But it would be well, perhaps, to take a glimpse at similar matters a little nearer home, and operate upon the obstruction in our own ocular organ before objecting to the squint of our neighbor. How many persons—we ask in all seriousness—know what sacred music is? We believe that most people would be shocked if their church choir, next Sunday, should strike up "Shoo, Fly," or "Up in a Balloon," and still they listen to precisely similar tunes, of more real musical worth, however, every Sunday, and make no objections. A German friend of ours, a graduate of a German university, was horrified upon going into one of our leading Methodist sanctuaries, when he couldn't understand a word of English, to hear the whole congregation fervently singing tune after tune that for centuries have been sung by German students to the lowest and most unholy words, and though he can now understand the words they use he can never, he says, get rid of a sense of unfitness when he hears the same music. In other churches we have ourselves heard music from Don Juan, one of the most immoral of operas. The question seems to be does the fitness of the melody depend upon the words which are sung to it? And if so, how can music be either fit or unfit when it is altogether instrumental? To a man of fine musical culture and feeling the expression is contained in the airs themselves, but as this class is but a very small minority, it would be well for churches to be very careful what music they do use, or else be silent when questions of musical sacrilege are discussed.

BLACK SUFFRAGE.

A number of our State exchanges, Republican and Democratic, occasionally revert to the adoption of the XVth Amendment and consequent enfranchisement of the blacks, as a boon conferred for the first time to that portion of the people of this Commonwealth. The colored people have not so much cause to be grateful as many suppose, as they are granted through the amendment only simple justice, having restored to them privileges which for a long term of years they enjoyed, and of which they were deprived for no good reason. An editorial published some years ago in these columns, will bear repetition now, as it reviews clearly the history of suffrage during a period of one hundred and eighty-eight years:

In 1682 William Penn promulgated "The Frame of Government" of Pennsylvania, under authority of the charter granted him by King Charles II. In this document the right of suffrage is given, without restriction, to "the freemen of said province."

In 1701 Penn granted what is known as the "Charter of Privileges." By this instrument the right of suffrage was broadly given to "the freemen of each respective county."

The first constitution of Pennsylvania was adopted in 1776. The convention that framed this instrument was presided over by Benjamin Franklin. It gave the right of suffrage to "every freeman of the full age of 21 years." The men of the Revolution, while asserting their own rights and liberties against proscription, were careful to stand fast by the cardinal idea of the political equality of all men.

In 1790 a new constitution was framed. Thos. Miflin presided over the convention that made it. This instrument gave the right to vote to "every freeman over the age of 21 years."

In 1839 the constitution was revised. John Sargeant presided over the convention. The basis of suffrage was changed, so as to include only "every white freeman of the age of 21 years."

INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION.

Under the most favorable auspices an industrial exposition will be held in Cincinnati, commencing September 21st, 1870. A general invitation is extended to artisans, manufacturers, inventors, and all engaged in works of art and ingenuity to contribute specimens of their productions. It is a matter of grave importance to the industrial interests of our city that Pittsburgh be fully and faithfully represented in the exposition. Argument is unnecessary to show what good follows the general periodical occasions of this character when the muscular and mental products of the country's army of laborers are brought together in one grand collection for exposition. Industry and the inventive genius of the country are encouraged, new ideas in art and mechanism are promulgated, and a fresh and invigorating stimulus is given to all branches of domestic industry. Again, no better or more practical method of advertising can be obtained by manufacturers than by exhibiting what they can do in the article of their production itself. Pittsburgh, the leading manufacturing city of the country, needs such advertising. Her mechanics and laborers take pride in their skill, and look to the manufacturers to have them properly represented with the products of their handiwork, that they may still retain the high position they have so justly held. We hope, therefore, that the city will be represented fully in the forthcoming western exposition, and that steps to that end will be speedily taken in order to insure proper place and room for representation.

In order that those interested may be more acquainted with the regulations of the fair, we publish the following rules adopted by the Board of Managers:

1. The Halls and Grounds will be open for the reception of articles for exhibition, from the 1st to the 20th of September inclusive. On the 21st of September the Exposition will be opened to the public, and will continue open from day to day (Sundays excepted), and from 10 o'clock A. M. to 10 o'clock P. M., until Saturday evening, October 15.

2. Articles may be entered for exhibition only, or for exhibition in competition with other articles for premium. But in the latter list, only products of the United States will be admitted.

3. Each exhibitor will be required to pay an entree fee of two dollars, which will entitle him to a badge that will admit him at all hours to the Exposition.

4. Applications for space must be made by the use of the blank forms which will be furnished, and should be made and entered on or before the 20th day of September. Space alloted to applicants, and not occupied by them on or before the day of public opening, may be assigned to other exhibitors. And the General Committee reserve the right to exclude from the Exposition articles of an explosive, highly inflammable, dangerous or offensive character; also articles presented after the day of public opening, when the same can not be introduced into the Exposition without undue inconvenience to other exhibitors and visitors. Whenever the articles will admit, contributors are requested to exhibit their goods in glass cases.

5. Exhibitors will be furnished by the Entery Clerk duplicate cards, describing each article entered for exhibition; these will be countersigned by the Department Superintendent on the receipt of the articles into the exposition. One of these cards shall be conspicuously attached to the article it discribes, and the other must be retained by the exhibitor, and be presented as his order for the delivery of the article specified, at the close of the exposition.

6. It provided that Judges in each class shall be wholly disinterested; that they shall be composed of men eminent for their skill in arts, and particularly in reference to the class of articles assigned to them, and that they shall be appointed on or after the day of public opening in the following manner: One by the General Committee, one by the exhibitors in the respective class, and a third by the two thus appointed.

7. Machines and other articles exhibited for premium, will be subject to thorough practical tests to determine their efficiency, economy or other alleged merits. And in this respect it is the purpose of the General Committee to conduct the Exposition with exact and inflexible justice, and in such a manner that its action in every case will command the confidence of the public, while its premiums or commendations will be made of permanent and substantial value to those who receive its awards.

8. The main line of shafting, from which power will be furnished for machinery in operation, is 2 7-16 inches in diameter, and will be run at a speed of 200 revolutions per minute. Driving pulleys of any required diameter; also counter shafts, and pulleys, and belts and hangers will be furnished to exhibitors at cost, if timely arrangements for them are made. Pulleys for the main line of shafting, if furnished by Exhibitors, must be accurately balanced, and must have the exhibitor's name plainly marked upon them, and should be received before the 20th of September, to enable them to be put in place on the shaft without unnecessary labor and inconvenience.

9. No article on exhibition can be removed from the premises during the Exposition, without the assent of the General Committee. But all appropriate facilities for making sales of articles for delivery at the close of the Exposition will be afforded, and after the close an auction sale will be held on the premises of such articles as have been exhibited or used in the Exposition, that the owner desires to offer, under the direction of the General Committee.

10. An adequate police force will be in attendance upon the premises during the day, and watchmen at night; but all articles on exhibition will be at the risk of the owner. Insurance against loss by fire will be effected by the General Committee in behalf of all exhibitors who apply and provide for the same.

11. Premiums will consist of the General Committee's gold and silver medals and diplomas. Also, the General Committte's grand gold medal for best displays in several prominent departments. Judges will be instructed to make full and complete reports of all tests and all methods employed in determining the merits of the articles examined by them, with the result of the same in detail; and they will be moreover instructed to include in their reports, for publication in the General Report, such commendatory notices, or "honorable mention" of articles not awarded a premium as they may find entitled to notice. They will also be instructed to notice in a similar manner articles entered for exhibition only, when found to be eminently meritorious.

12. The hours from 8 to 10 o'clock A. M. of each day will be appropriated exclusively to the Judges, during which time no exhibitor will be admitted unless requested to be present by the Judges; and in case the presence of an exhibitor is required, all exhibitors in the class in which he is a competitor shall be notified and permitted to attend.

13. All communications relating to the Exposition, and all boxes or packages containing articles for the Exposition should be directed to "Cincinnati Industrial Exposition," Cincinnati, with the name and residence of the sender plainly marked thereon. A detailed statement of the contents of each box or package should be enclosed with the same or sent separately by mail.

THE PENNSYLVANIA GAME LAWS.

We print below, by request, the game laws of our State. Such laws have become necessary in all of the more thickly populated portions of the country, and it is every man's duty to denounce any infringment of them which may come to his notice. In many places, through neglect of this, game of all kinds has been almost or altogether exterminated. Every farmer and fruit raiser should especially make it his business to see that insectiverous birds receive all the protection which the law affords.

1. It shall not be lawful for any person within this Commonwealth to shoot, kill or in any way trap or destroy any bluebird, swallow, martin or other insectiverous bird at any season of the year, under the penalty of two dollars.

*2. No person shall shoot, kill or otherwise destroy any pheasant between the first day of January and the fourth day of July, or any partridge or rabbit between the first day of January and the first day of October, in the present year, and in each and every year thereafter, under the penalty of five dollars for each and every offence.

3. From June first to September first of each and every year thereafter, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to shoot, kill, trap or destroy rail-birds or reed-birds, under the penal sum of five dollars with costs of prosecution for each and every offence, to be sued for and recovered before any magistrate in the county in which the offence was committed, one-half of the penalty for the use of the informer, who shall be a competent witness, the other half for the use of the poor of the district in which the offence was committed.

4. No person shall kill or otherwise destroy any pheasant between the first day February and the first day of August, or any woodcock between the first day of February and the fourth day of July, or any partridge or rabbit between the first day of February and the first day of October in the present year and in each and every year thereafter, under the penalty of five dollars for each and every offence; and that the second section of the act to which this is a supplement be and the same is hereby repealed.

5. No person shall buy or cause to be bought or carry out of this State for the purpose of supplying any private or public house or market, any pheasant, partridge, woodcock or rabbit, unless the same shall have been shot or taken in the proper season as provided for in this act, under a penalty of five dollars for each and every offence.

6. No person shall at any time willfully destroy the eggs or nests of any birds mentioned in the different sections of this act, within this commonwealth, under penalty of two dollars for each and every offence.

7. The possession of any person within this commonwealth of any of the game and birds mentioned in the different sections of this act, shot, killed or otherwise destroyed out of the season as aforesaid, shall be prima facia evidence to convict under this act.

8. Any person offending against any of the provisions of this act, and being thereof convicted before any Alderman or Justice of the Peace aforesaid, or by the oath or affirmation of one or more witnesses, shall, for every such offence, forfeit the fine or fines attached to the same, one-half to the use of the county in which the complaint is made, and the other half to the use of the informer; and if the offender shall refuse to pay the said forfeiture, he shall be committed to the jail of the proper county, for every such offence, for the space of two days, without bail or mainprise: Provided however, that such conviction be made within sixty days after the committing of the offense.

9. That any act or acts conflicting with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

SUPPLEMENT.

1. The time for shooting partridges shall commence on the 20th day of October, and end on the 20th day of December in each year.

2. That the penalty provided by the 2nd section of the act, to which this is a supplement, be and the same is hereby increased to twenty-five dollars, and the remedy provided by said law for collecting said penalties shall be, and is hereby amended; and all laws and parts of laws inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed:

Provided, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the counties of Tioga, Potter, Bradford, Sullivan, Venango, Warren, Pike, Wayne, Lehigh, Cambria, Jefferson, Clinton, Carbon, Monroe, Indiana, Clarion, Wyoming, Mercer, Northampton, Centre and Westmoreland.

*Section 2 was repealed by section 4, but was afterward re-enacted for the counties of York, Montgomery, Fayette, Westmoreland and Greene.

The Last of the Missing Steamer

The City of Boston, which left New York on January 25th, and Halifax on January 27th, and has not been heard of since, has at last been given up as lost by the Inman Company, to which she belonged. Mr Wm. Inman has recently written a letter to the Secretary of the Marine Department of the Board of Trade of London, stating that he feels bound to report officially to the department the loss of the City of Boston. Mr. Inman thinks that the City of Boston was crushed in the ice fields, which had suddenly broken up. The reasons given for this theory are as follows: The Inman steamship Etna on arriving at Halifax from Liverpool on January 25th reported clear weather and no ice visible on the northern track. It is believed that Captain Halcross, of the City of Boston, in consequence of this report, took the northern track, and by the unexpected breaking up of the ice pack was crushed by the icebergs. This view of the loss is believed to be highly probable from the fact that no portion of the wreck has been picked up. As to the assertion that the City of Boston was overloaded, Mr. Inman says that the total weight on board the City of Boston, when leaving Halifax, was as follows: machinery 390 tons, coal 787 tons, cargo 916 tons, making a total of 2,093 tons. He also says that the author of a letter in the Times charging that "the vessel had been lost from overloading," had inserted a full retraction. The author of another letter making the same charge had refused to apologize and has been sued for libel. The complaint is made against this letter of Mr. Inman's that while he gives a full and explicit list of the cargo, with the marks and numbers, names of consignees, and other items of interest to those concerned in the freight and merchandize, he carefully avoids mentioning the names and number of the persons who were aboard the City of Boston.

IN speaking of relapsing fever the Philadelphia Ledger says that there seems to be no cause for alarm among people who are cleanly and take care of their persons and houses. During the past six weeks the number of deaths from that cause reported in Philadelphia is only 49, nearly all of whom were patients taken to the hospitals from the most wretched portions of the city.

ADOPTION OF GEOGRAPHIES.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The great contest over the adoption of geographical text books for the Pittsburgh public schools during the ensuing year terminated on Tuesday last, in the rejection of Guyot's and the selection of Mitchell's series. We are for various reasons sorry that the Central Board of Education, have seen fit to assume the responsibility of discarding Guyot's geographies, and whilst we regret their action in so doing, we most unhesitatingly and unqualifiedly pronounce the change unjust, uncalled for and inexcusable. These books have been in use in our schools during the past ten months, having been adopted just one year ago by a vote of fourteen to seven, and furnished the pupils in exchange for their old books at an expense to the publishers of not less than five thousand dollars. This fact alone certainly should have secured to the books a just and impartial test, in the school room, at the hands of candid unprejudiced teachers, before their exclusion from the schools. That they have not had such a test is perfectly obvious, and that a few teachers persistently exerted themselves to defeat the success of the system is just as manifest. We know of one principal, and he figured conspicuously in the late contest, who restrained his assistants from teaching Guyot's system of map drawing, and had his pupils so trained that when, in the presence of visitors, he interrogated them in reference to their opinion of Guyot's Geographies, they gave expression to their imbibed sentiments of antipathy in the beautiful phraseology of "They are a nuisance; they are a nuisance." Yet, under these unfavorable circumstances even the books have given great satisfaction, and the mass of the teachers have expressed themselves in favor of their continuance in the schools, whilst but twelve could be found to recommend the adoption of Mitchell. "More progress has been made in the study of geography during the past year than for the two preceding years;" such is the statement of the Superintendent of Public Schools of Pittsburgh. We urge, therefore, that Guyot's system of Geography has given satisfaction in the schools of this city; that the great mass of the teachers were adverse to its expulsion, and that to-day, among the teachers of Pittsburgh, there is less opposition to the Geographies than to any other text-books at present in use. These things being true, we claim that the action of the Central Board in the matter was a piece of unparalleled injustice to the publishers, an insult to the teachers, and an imposition on the public.

We claim furthermore, and we can substantiate what we say, that parties interested in securing the adoption of Mitchell's Geographies, instead of resting their success upon the merits of their books, employed the most unwarrantable measures, which ought to receive the condemnation of every honorable and right-minded man. It is a sad day for our system of free education, when unscrupulous men attempt influence those who control the interests of our schools, by monopolies, political chicanery and money considerations.

CENTRAL BOARD.

The English Tragedy—The Seven-Fold Murder near Uxbridge—A Whole Family Butchered.

[From the Daily News, May 2d.]

One of the most extraordinary tragedies which has taken place for many years was discovered last evening at the village of Denham, about two miles from Uxbridge. It seems that a family named Marshall resided at a cottage in that village, the husband carrying on business as an engineer. Besides Marshall, there lived in the cottage his wife and three children, whose ages ran between three and nine years, and also the mother and sister of Marshall. This day, (Tuesday) had been fixed for the marriage of the sister, and it is to the fact of her wedding dress being brought home that the discovery of the murder is to be attributed. Nothing had been seen of the murdered persons since Saturday; but upon a young girl going to the cottage yesterday with the garment referred to, and gaining no reply, the neighbors had their suspicions aroused, and an entry was soon effected into the house. A scene of the most horrible description then presented itself. On the ground floor the bodies of Mrs. Marshall and her sister-in-law, were found quite dead—the former lying on her back, and the latter, who had her night dress on, and was evidently preparing for bed, was placed across her. Both had their heads fearfully mutilated, and the absence of blood about the place was remarked by those who witnessed the dreadful discovery. At the right hand, on entering the cottage, and near the fire-place, three children belonging to Marshall were also found with their heads frightfully battered, and also quite dead. The mother of Marshall was likewise found, having been brutally murdered in the same way; and on entering the shop where Marshall had been at work, wearing a smock-frock, his body was also found. It was covered with sacks, and it was apparent that he had had a desperate struggle. His hands were scratched in several places, and there were marks as if he had been dragged about the ground. His head had also been beaten in in the same manner as those of the other victims. There was another child belonging to Marshall—a little boy, aged sixteen months—who had been sent to his grandmother's to be "out of the way" during the wedding of Marshall's sister; and but for that circumstance there is very small doubt that the little creature would have been added to the list of the murdered members of the family. The medical gentlemen called were Drs. Ferris and Macnamara, and it is their opinion that the awful deed has been perpetrated as long since as Saturday night or Sunday morning. The county constabulary have been unable, up to the present time, to obtain any clue as to the murderer, or the cause of the dreadful crime. A forge hammer and an ordinary axe—with which the murders are supposed to have been committed—have been discovered, with traces of blood upon them. Whatever the motive by which the murderer or murderers—for it seems difficult to imagine the fearful work can have been done by one person—robbery does not seem to have been the object, for nothing appears to have been disturbed; the rings and several articles of jewelry worn by the unfortunate persons not having been removed.

The excitement in the village is intense. Marshall and his wife and sister were, it is said, much respected by their neighbors.

Preparing for Adversity.

A private letter from Pembina to a well known gentleman of this city, received last evening, contains a brief statement of the operations of "President" Riel, which will not surprise those who know the character of the "Young Napoleon of the Northwest," as he is termed by the St Paul Press. It appears that Riel had become aware of the growing disaffection against his rule, and of the near approach of its termination, by the expected arrival of troops from Canada, and also saw the necessity of making preparations for his speedy exit to the universal asylum for played-out revolutionists—the United States. But like many others of his class, he was troubled with impecuniosity. He was destitute of the means of supporting his dignity while in exile. Better men than he have often been troubled in the same way. But Riel concieved a brilliant idea by which his purse could be replenished. In short, he determined to "go through the mails." The letter referred to states that he went to the post office, seized the recent mails, and rifled all the money-letters of their contents, and raised no inconsiderable sum by the operation. It is also believed that he has abstracted money from letters directed to parties in this city, Canada and other places. The pretence for this seizure of mail matter was to intercept treasonable correspondence, and to guard against the machinations of his enemies—but as above stated, it is believed it was for the purpose of raising money to escape from the country. There was great excitement at Winnepeg in regard to the matter; and at Pembina the opinion was general that Riel would soon be "over the border and far away" from the scenes of his numerous crimes.—St. Paul Press, June 1.

THE latest remarkable dog story comes from Charlottesville, Va. A few Sundays ago the Doctor was preaching in the absence of Mr. Cutler, the regular pastor, in the Disciples' church. Near the close of the sermon his dog got up, stretched himself, and walked around uneasily. The Doctor taking no notice of this, the dog deliberately looked around till he found the Doctor's hat, took it in his mouth, carried it up to him, and would not leave till he was relieved of it. He then went down in front of the pulpit and waited impatiently for a few minutes for the Doctor to take the hint. Finding he would not, he looked around and got his stick and carried it to him, which hint was quickly taken by the Doctor, for fear that he might do something worse.

A NOBLE EXAMPLE.—The Queen of Prussia met, the other day, in the neighborhood of Potsdam, a young prostitute, dressed in very flashy attire. The girl did not know the Queen, who stopped her and put a number of questions to her. Finally she asked her if nothing would induce her to abandon the vicious life she was leading. "Oh, I would so gladly do it," replied the girl, "but, Madame, what am I to do? Even if I intended to work, who would employ me?" "I will take care of you," said the Queen, and, telling her who she was, she said she would send the girl to her palace at Coblentz, and give her a good position there. On the following day the girl was on her way to Coblentz.

THE LIFE SUSTAINING ORGAN.

The two organs which minister most directly to the support of the body are the stomach and liver. In the former the first process of digestion takes place, under the action of that powerful solvent, the gastric juice. Thence the food, controverted into a pulp, passes into the duodenum, where it is subjected to the action of the bile or gall, flowing from the liver, and of the fluid generated from the pancreas, or sweetbread of the system. These secretions separate the nutritious portions from the rest, and it is then taken up by the absorbent vessels and conveyed into the channels of circulation in the form of venous blood, while the waste matter is discharged through the bowels. Unless all these processes are duly performed, disease of some sort is inevitable, and the best of all medicinal agents for preserving or restoring the tone and regulating the action of the three organs—(the stomach, liver and intestines)—by which the threefold work is carried on, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Indigestion is generally accompanied by constipation, and the gentle cathartic operation of the Bitters is no less important in cases of this kind, than its tonic effect upon the stomach and the biliary gland. Beauty of person as well as health, depends in no small degree upon the regularity of the excretive functions. A sallow complexion, a thick opaque coarse skin, a tainted breath, rush of blood to the head, loss of memory, headache, and extreme mental depression, are the usual accompaniments of costiveness. A course of the Bitters will infallibly relieve, and finally banish these obnoxious symptoms while invigorating the stomach and promoting healthy action in the liver. This genial vegetable stomachic and alterative, strikes at disease in its primary source, the assimilating, secretive and expulsive organs, and the cures it effects are consequently thorough and complete.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad
Is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.
In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.
When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.
It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.
It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.
The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)
The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of Investors and Capitalists.
Who desire to make their investments with the most satisfactory assurance of POSITIVE AND UNDOUBTED SECURITY.
The Bonds are in denominations of

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, June 7, 1870.

Both wheat and flour, appear to be somewhat excited in Chicago and higher in New York, but there is no good or substantial cause for it, and it is no doubt the result of speculation and manipulation. The same thing was carried on last year with considerable success; the pretext then was that the crops had been ruined by the excessive rains; now, there is to be another failure in consequence of the drouth. It is well known how it turned out last year, and there is not much doubt but what the result will be the same this year. We are aware that there has been some ground for apprehension in regard to the wheat crop in California and some parts of the northwest, but later intelligence is more favorable. It is now thought that the yield in California will not be much below an average, while in all other parts of the country, according to present indications, the yield will be fully up and probably in excess of last year. In this section of country, the weather and crops have been and still are all that could be possibly be desired, and, furthermore, the harvest will be at least two weeks earlier than last year. The only thing to be dreaded now is frost, and there is not much danger of this as the season is too far advanced.

APPLES—Season is over and we omit quotations.

BUTTER—Is in good supply and rather dull but unchanged, good to choice 14@18.

BROOM CORN—Dull; 13@15 cts.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BEANS—Dull but nominally unchanged, $1,50@1,75 per bushel.

CORNMEAL—Is dull but the stock is light and prices unchanged; 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $2@2¼ per bbl.

CHEESE—The receipts continue liberal and the market is quiet and unchanged. Ohio Goshen, 15; Ohio Factory, 14; Hamburg, 13.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and unchanged—23½@24, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Sales of Apples at 5½@6½; Peaches, at 6@7 for quarters; 8@9 for halves, and 17@18 for pared. Blackberries, 12@13; pitted Cherries, 23@25.

EGGS—The receipts have again fallen off considerably, and the market is firmer and higher, with sales at 20@22.

FLOUR—Very firm and higher and somewhat excited—there is now little or no difference between Spring and winter wheat flours, and as might be expected the demand is mainly for the latter. Choice brands of either may be quoted at $5,75@6, and fancy brands at $7@8.

GROCERIES—Sugars are active and steady but unchanged—otherwise the market is quiet. Rio Coffee is quoted at 19@22 for common to choice. Sugars—Cuba, 10¾@11¼; Porto Rico, 10½@12; New Orleans, 10@12; Crushed, 14¼; A Coffee, 13¼; B. 13; Extra C, 12¾. New Orleans molasses, 80@85. Rice—8 for Rangoon and 9 for Carolina.

GRAIN—The advance in the west has produced a little stronger feeling here, though there is no change whatever to make in quotations. $1,15@1,18 for good to choice red; the receipts appear to be falling off somewhat. Oats steady but unchanged; 47@48 in first hands and 50@51 on wharf and track. Corn continues exceedingly dull and cannot fairly be quoted above 80 for ear and 85 for shelled. Rye also, is as dull as ever, and 90c seems to be the top of the market—we are reported a sale of two cars, in first hands, at 85. There is nothing doing in Barley.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

LARD OIL—No. 1 extra is quoted at $1,25@1,28, and No. 2 at 80@85.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, June 7, 1870.

Since our article of last week we have little that is new to report. Trade in this staple drags heavily. Except for the few small lots brought into the city for sale, we hear as yet of no buyers in the field. Eastern Commission Merchants, as is usual at this season of the year, are sending out their circulars, and also, in many cases, calling in person upon their consignors. They invariably quote low prices, and report the market as very much depressed. We have yet to hear of the first eastern buyer making his appearance, in the country here about, who was prepared either to enter or to put an agent into the market and take up a lot of wool. A few have come out to look over the ground, but they hesitate what to do. The same may be said of the dealers in this city. With the exception of the few "blanket lots" brought to their doors, we can hear of no purchases being made by them, nor even of their having made any arrangements for purchasing.

The fact is, the trade has been so unsatisfactory the past couple of years, that dealers will be very cautious. Last year a majority of them lost money, and none made more than living wages for their labor and anxiety.

Manufacturing, as all know, was not profitable the past year. With some exceptional cases of course manufacturers of woolen goods either come out about even, or lost money. A number of them failed, and many who were looked upon a few years ago as being good, are now considered a little weak. In fact we learn, through eastern reports, that "many manufacturers are becoming discouraged by this condition of business, and finding that they cannot make goods at present rates, and get their money back, are working up their stock with a view of stopping their machinery. But the trouble is, there are too many who are not in position to stop—in spite of the knowledge that they are daily consuming their capital in meeting the losses on their goods—but are obliged to continue running, with the hope that times will change for the better." It would be far better for all concerned if a portion of the machinery of the country was idle.

Just here let us call the attention of farmers to two other important matters, namely: The heavy importation of foreign skins, which produce scoured wool cheaper than domestic, at present prices, and the increasing production of California, from which State the new clip is now arriving freely in the eastern markets, and is said to be in much better condition than last year. These are important facts, and should not be overlooked by farmers who are inclined to hold out for high prices.

The foregoing is a plain statement of the state of the market and trade, as we gather from our eastern exchanges and from conversation with our city dealers. From it farmers can draw their own conclusions.

We would just add, before closing, that farmers will have to look closely to the condition of their wool this season. It will be scrutinized very closely, and every thing that is heavy and unmerchantable will be made to stand the proper reduction.

In the absence of transactions to any extent, we quote common to half blood fleece 35 to 38 cents; three quarter to full blood and above 38 to 40 cents; tub washed 38 to 40.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, June 7, 1870.

There is no improvement to note in the oil business: the stagnation which has prevailed so long still continues, and the market is just about as dull and heavy as it can be. There is still some inquiry for refined for early deliveries, but there are no sellers here at the prices bid, and, consequently, we have no sales to record. Crude, although weak, is very obstinate, and notwithstanding the downward pressure is strong, it yields very slowly. It is very common for refined to drop a ⅛ or a ¼, but it takes days and even weeks for crude to decline an ⅛ or a ¼.

CRUDE.

Not a single sale reported. Spot or seller June may be fairly quoted at 12@12⅛, with but few buyers over 12, and not many even at that. It is intimated that oil can be bought above at a fraction under 12c. Future deliveries are dull and nominally unchanged.

REFINED.

Not a single sale reported. Compared with yesterday there is little or no change in prices, though the market is weak and heavy. June is quoted at 26¾; July, 27⅛; August, 28⅛.

RIVER NEWS.

The river appeared to be swelling slightly, with 3 feet 10 inches in the channel last evening. We had the heaviest rain storm of the season yesterday afternoon, accompanied by thunder and lightning.

The Kate Putnam, from Nashville, is the only arrival we have to report. She was delayed at Brunot all Monday night.

The Julia No. 3, due here from Zanesville on Sunday night, has not arrived yet.

The Belle, from Geneva, arrived and departed as usual.

The Wauanita, Capt. J. B. Conway, is filling up steadily and will be the first boat out for St. Louis. The Mary Davage is also loading for St Louis.

—The extensive pipe foundry and machine shop of Dennis Long & Co., Louisville, was destroyed by fire, Saturday afternoon. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Long, who looses all his patters of twenty years accumulation. He has contracts for the building of several new boats, being constructed around the falls; also for furnishing gas and water pipe for different cities in the West, all of which must be lost by the fire, and over one hundred men thrown out of employment. The loss will not fall short of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. The origin of the fire was accidental

—It is reported at Louisville that the Natchez and Robt. E. Lee are to leave New Orleans together on either the 18th or 30th inst., for a race to Cairo, on a wager of $10,000 that the Natchez will beat the Lee to Cairo six hours. We have little confidence, says the Cincinnati Gazette, in the report, but should it prove true, we suggest that neither boat take any passengers.

—Says the Cincinnati Enquirer of Monday: The Arlington arrived from Pittsburgh Saturday night, and left for Louisville yesterday. She will go below the falls, and will not probably make her apperance here again before fall. She will lay up below the falls for the present, and run between Louisville and New Orleans when the Lower Ohio gets down to a low stage.

—The current at Liberty Island where the Great Republic was grounded so long, has changed, and now runs nearer the Missouri shore some distance above, but below cuts sharply toward the Illinois side, rapidly cutting away the head of Liberty Island. The stay of the Great Republic occasioned this change.

—A well-known and responsible gentleman of Cincinnati has authorized Captain T. P. Leathers to accept a bet for him of $10,000, that the Natchez, in one of her proposed twelve day trips to St. Louis, can either beat the R. E. Lee, or beat the Lee's time, from New Orleans to Cairo.

—The St. Louis Republican remarks as a singular fact that nearly all Western Congressmen vote for appropriations for the improvement of the rivers and harbors East, while no Eastern Congressmen are ever won to vote for appropriations for Western river improvements.

—Capt. J. M. White has contracted at Louisville for a boat to be faster than the Natchez or Lee. Her length will be 280 feet. She will have 34 inch cylinders, and eight boilers, 38 inches in diameter. She is intended for the New Orleans and Bends trade.

—There is a lively competition going on between the Evansville, Paducah and Cairo packets, by which Capt. Dexter is seeking to drive the Idlewild from the trade in order that he may secure a monopoly.

—The new steamer Grand Tower, passed the Richmond the other day, but the latter boat was heavily loaded and was not in condition for running.

—An exchange intimates that over fifty lives were lost by the fire at LaCrosse, and that the railroad and steamboat managers suppress the truth.

—The new boat now being built at Brownsville, for Capt. John L. Rhodes, has been named Exchange.

—The Juniata did not leave Cincinnati on Sunday. She was advertised for Monday at 12 o'clock.

—The Collier, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Cairo on Sunday, as was also the Wild Duck.

—The Nick Wall left Fort Benton for St. Louis May 29th, with a big trip.

—The Glendale, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, left Cincinnati on Sunday.

We unhesitatingly recommend these Bonds as the safest and best investment in the market.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

Mr. C. S. Henry will please call on Chas. Lincoln, Girard House, Allegheny, Pa., between 12 and 2 o'clock.

Another.—The commission of Charles G. Milner, as Notary Public was received at the office of Recorder Hunter yesterday.

Alderman Irwin, of the Second Ward, Allegheny, is acting in the absence of Mayor Callow, who has gone East for a pleasure trip.

Allegheny property holders are requested to read the advertisement of D. Macferron, City Treasurer, on the fourth page of to-day's paper.

A full and fresh stock of Ladies', Gents' and Children's merino underwear, at Jno. Degelman & Co.'s new stand Stocking Store, No. 30 Fifth avenue.

Allegheny Library—Annual Election.—The annual election for officers of the Allegheny Library will be held to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at 7½ o'clock.

Yesterday Deputy Mayor Nichols issued a warrant for the arrest of Charles Pflumb, for so far forgetting his gallantry as to call Mrs. E. C. Fairfax a "dirty Irish hog."

Job Lot English Cotton Half Hose, regular made, very cheap, at the new stand Stocking Store, Jno. Degelman & Co., No. 30 Fifth avenue.

The alarm of fire yesterday morning, about three o'clock, was occasioned by the burning of a pile of lumber at the foot of Twentieth street, near the Independence Engine House. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an incendiary.

By Reference to an advertisement on our first page it will be seen the committee appointed to select a site for a female college advertise for proposals from owners of property in and around this city. Land owners' attention is especially called.

Meanness Unadulterated.—The depths of unadulterated meanness was reached yesterday by a man who entered a small confectionery store on Fulton street during the storm, and taking advantage of the absence of the owner, a poor widow, emptied the till of $25—all it contained. That chap should have the premium.

Stock Sale.—The following stocks were sold last evening, by A. M. McIlwain, auctioneer, at his auction rooms, 106 Smithfield street:

Exchange National Bank	$ 67 50
Second National Bank	102 00
Manchester Savings Bank	52 50
Monongahela Navigation Co	51 25
M. and M. Insurance Co	29 50

Variety and Beauty.—There is as much beauty and variety in manufactures sometimes, as in what is called the fine arts. Take, for example, the stock of queensware on exhibition at 383 Liberty street, from the Keystone Pottery. Elegance, taste, delicate finish and beautiful outlines, are comprised in it. The fancy may be pleased in these articles of every-day use, just as well as in any other department.

School Board Organization.—The Board of Directors of the St. Clair schools met last evening and elected officers for the coming year. The Board consists of the following members: Messrs. Andrew Stein, Louis Fritz, Thomas Curran, Martin Krause, Lawrence Schneider and Martin Fugen. The election resulted as follows: Martin Krause, President; Thos. Curran, Treasurer; Lawrence Schneider, Secretary; J. M. Cook, Acting Secretary.

Gov. Geary in Town.

Gov. Geary arrived in the city yesterday morning and put up at the Monongahela House. He was accompanied by Col. McFarland, Superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools. The object of his visit was the inspection of the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools in this vicinity. In the early part of the day he visited the school in the Ninth ward, and the Allegheny Orphan Asylum where the "children of the State" are cared for. He left in the afternoon train for Uniontown, where he will remain until to-day, inspecting the Fayette County School. Returning he will visit the Institution at Phillipsburgh this morning.

During his short stay in this city he was called upon by a large number of citizens.

Fire in Allegheny.

Yesterday morning about eleven o'clock a slight fire occurred at J. & R. W. Snodgrass' drug store, corner of Lacock and Federal streets, Allegheny. The boy had been in the cellar and lit the gas, when he threw the match upon the floor. There happened to be turpentine scattered over the place, and in an instant there was a blaze. The Fire Department was summoned in a few minutes and by energetic efforts succeeded in subduing the flames. The loss will amount to about $300; fully insured. The cellar was filled with highly inflammable material, and but for the prompt response and subsequent action of the firemen, a heavy conflagration would have ensued. The men performed their duties admirably and received the heartiest commendation of every spectator.

A Colored Juror.

John Westley Jackson, a respectable colored man of this county, was called to serve on the jury in the District Court, yesterday morning. In empannelling the first jury Mr. Jackson was called as a talesman by Mr. Fife, Deputy Sheriff, and took his seat with the eleven white men who had been called before him. He was challenged off.

The sight, although a novel one, did not as it might have done ten years since, create a sensation. It is certainly remarkable with what readiness the American people adapt themselves to political changes and become reconciled to contingencies which a few years since would have been considered preposterous. Had any one, even in this stronghold of Republicanism, ten years since, predicted that in 1870 the jury boxes in our courts would be occupied by colored men, his chances for escaping a lunatic asylum would have been very slim.

Amusements.

MASONIC HALL.—The Cantata Society under the leadership of Prof. C. Tetedoux, will give two grand concerts this week, the first of which will be offered to-morrow night. It is hardly necessary for us to say that the occasions will be eminently worthy attendance. The Society has already made high reputation, having furnished several of the finest amateur concerts ever had in this city, and as its members are close students each new occasion develops a higher degree of art and perfection. The second concert will take place on Friday night. The programmes each night will be entirely different. There will be no reserved seats.

THE ACADEMY.—A large and fashionable audience was in attendance last night at the Academy on the occasion of the second entertainment of the celebrated Carncross & Dixeys' minstrel company. Of course all were pleased and entertained as no better company ever came this way to charm and delight an audience. To-night, the third evening of the season a splendid bill will be offered.

A Full Day.

Alderman Taylor did a full day's business yesterday in the criminal line. The first visitor who called upon him in the morning was John Youard, who made information setting forth that Thomas Lloyd owed him $150, and that Thomas was disposing of his effects for the purpose of absconding to England and defrauding his creditors. Detectives were put on the track to prevent Thomas' departure.

John McKenna and James Blakely had engaged in a little eye-gouging. John was the most damaged. He consulted Alderman Taylor and James was held for a hearing.

Caspar Dole made information charging Augustus Dazler with assault and battery. Valentine Doyle made a similar complaint against Jacob Limber. The parties all met in a saloon when a general row ensued. After hearing both sides, the Alderman discharged the defendants and permitted the prosecutors to pay the costs.

James Early was held for a hearing for attempting to choke Margaret Harington, and threatening to kill her.

Registration.

Under an Act of Assembly approved April 16th, 1870, entitled "An Act Supplementary to an Act to establish a Board of Health in the City of Pittsburgh, &c.," a full synopsis of which we published some time since, it becomes the duty of every clergyman, clerk or keeper of church records, and of every magistrate or other person by or before whom marriage may hereafter be solemnized or contracted, of every practising physician and practitioner of midwifry, of every undertaker, superintendent or sexton of cemetery or burial ground in this city, to report his, her or their names and places of residence to the health officer, at the office of the Board of Health, and it shall be the duty of the health officer to have the same properly registered, in index form, in suitable books, to be furnished by the Board of Health. In the event of any of the persons above specified removing to any other place of residence, it shall be their duty to notify the health officer of the fact within thirty days after such removal. The penalty for neglecting to report as above is a fine of $20.

This act goes into effect July 1st, 1870, and in order that its provisions may be fully complied with, it is necessary that the persons designated above should report immediately, so that they may be furnished with the necessary blanks before that date.

A Suburban Home.

The pleasures and benefits of a home in the suburbs, with all the advantages of the city, and all the delights of country life, are so apparent and enticing that it is remarkable that more of our merchants and city people have not availed themselves of this method of making existence more happy and endurable. The only valid reason that seems to answer for this action may be found in the fact that a really cozy, comfortable and convenient suburban home in this vicinity is hard to secure—proprietors of such seldom being willing to give them up.

One of those rare opportunities which only come once in a lifetime will be given to-day in the sale of the elegant and spacious premises at Wilkinsburg now in the possession of Mr. Edward Rahm. Here is comprised two and a half acres of as choice land as can be found in the country, together with a large brick dwelling house, brick tenant house, stable and carriage house, all the out-side conveniences and an orchard of fruit-growing trees, which of itself is a treasure. The property is situated on the Greensburg pike within five minutes walk of the station, at which trains stop nearly every hour, or a short and pleasant drive over an excellent road would bring the merchant into the city in time for the opening of business. Such an eligible site so beautiful and convenient is very rarely offered for sale. Real estate fanciers or any person desiring an elegant suburban home or country hotel, should be on hand this afternoon at four o'clock when Col. John H. Stewart wields the hammer. An opportunity will be given for examination before the sale. Whoever gets it will secure a real estate treasure.

TUESDAY, June 7.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. William Rafferty, indicted for keeping a gambling house, was taken up. The case was opened on the part of the prosecution by District Attorney Pearson, who briefly stated the facts, and the charge against the defendant.

Several witnesses were then called, and the fact of Mr. Rafferty's arrest in the gambling house, on Sixth street, proven, and it was also proven that he had been engaged in playing the game of Faro, sometimes as "dealer" and at others as "lookout."

FARO IN COURT.

Mr. William Neeper was then placed on the stand, and in order to demonstrate the game of Faro to the jury, the "layout" was placed before the witness, and a game opened up, the witness dealing and the District attorney doing the betting. The witness held that the game was a fair one; that the chances were as much in favor of the better as of the dealer. The chances to win were equal on both sides. Witness had been playing the game for twelve years, and had never seen the defendant engaged in gambling until within the last year. He thought Mr. Rafferty a novice at the business, and that he had lost money in the game.

Thomas Hughes, sworn—Have been in Elijah Hall's saloon on Sixth street; have seen the game of faro played there; have been there a dozen times; have seen the defendant there at efferent times, both in the afternoon and at night. I have seen cards played in the afternoon, but never saw faro except at night. Saw Rafferty play cards once. At night they played faro. It is more lively. I saw Mr. Rafferty dealing two evenings. At the other times he occupied the lookout chair. I purchased checks one night from Mr. Rafferty; boughty twenty-five dollars' worth. Saw Mr. Rafferty in a gambling house on Smithfield street.

Henry Simpson—Know the defendant; have known him for four years. He has been engaged with his father in a feed store. I have been at Hall's saloon, on Third street in the afternoon. Saw Mr. Rafferty there on one occasion; it was in a room up stairs; they were playing faro; there were eight or ten persons present; I never was in the house but twice and I never saw Mr. Rafferty engaged in a game of faro; I never saw Mr. Rafferty engaged in a game at any other time or place.

David E. Hall, sworn—I know where Elijah Hall kept a saloon on 3d avenue—have not been in the house for ten months. The room over the dining room was used for playing faro—have seen all the paraphanalia there for playing the game of faro—have known Mr. Rafferty, the defendant, for several years—don't know what he is engaged in—have seen him in the faro room—have seen him dealing and have seen him acting in the capacity of lookout. I think the implements belonged to my brother—I cannot say directly whether Mr. Rafferty was in partnership with my brother or not.

George Hall, sworn—I know the house kept by Elijah Hall, on Third avenue; I have been in several houses where games of chance were played; saw Mr. Rafferty there two years ago; never saw him engaged in a game of any kind; I was in the room the night the police made the arrest; they were playing faro that night; Mr. Vierheller was dealing the game; never saw Mr. Rafferty play.

William Shore, sworn—I was in the house kept by Elijah Hall on Third avenue prior to the 24th of January last; have been there both day and night; saw Mr. Rafferty there. I have seen Mr. Rafferty dealing faro; can't say the exact time—have seen him at other times—saw him loose $700—that is the game lost that much. I was in the game the night the police came in and arrested the parties. I had about sixty dollars worth of checks in my pocket; I was looser that night. Elijah Hall and Vierheller generally dealt; William Rafferty dealt sometimes.

Henry Goldstein, sworn—I am a dry goods dealer; have no store but carry them through the city. I was in Hall's saloon; was in the room where they played cards and faro; seen them play seven-up and cribbage in the afternoon. I was up one night and saw them play faro; I think I saw Mr. Rafferty there that night; I did not see Mr. Rafferty dealing that night.

Joseph Armstrong, sworn—I know the house kept by Elijah Hall on Third avenue. The room over the dining room was used as a faro bank. I was in the room once; saw Mr. Rafferty there; he was taking no part in the game. I was there once at night; a game of faro was going on; Mr. Hall was dealing; I played against the game. I never acted as lookout; never was in that house but once before. Have known Mr. Rafferty for several years; he was with his father in a feed store.

John M. Kirkpatrick, sworn—I have been in the house kept by Elijah Hall on Third avenue several times; saw Mr. Rafferty there; everytime I saw Mr. Rafferty he was acting as "look-out;" I had been in the house four or five times; Mr. Rafferty I think was present; I saw Rafferty in a house on Smithfield street. I think I saw him dealing there; I don't know whether the "look-out" always has an interest in the game or not, but I think not; sometimes one of the players acts as "look-out;" I have seen Rafferty betting against the game; I have known Rafferty about twelve or fourteen years; he was engaged around his father's store.

James S. Patterson sworn—I am Mayors' clerk—on the night of the 24th of January these articles (referring to the faro implements, the "lay out" "checks" and "deal box" &c.) were delivered to me by the officers who made the arrest and they have been in my possession ever since. I had a conversation with Mr. Rafferty next morning; Mr. Rafferty said he did not want a hearing but asked me to have the bail reduced if possible. He afterwards came to the office and requested me to take care of those checks and not have parties carrying them about in their pockets. Some time previous to that I had a conversation with Mr. Rafferty; told me that he was in partnership with Elijah Hall, in the gambling business.

Joseph M. Gazzam, sworn—I am trustee for the property on Third avenue, which was occupied by Elijah Hall; I leased it to him January, 1869, for one year; He told me he wanted it for a saloon, and gave me John A. Strain and James Blackmore as bail. I refused to renew the lease when I ascertained for what purpose the house was kept.

The Commonwealth then rested their case and Court adjourned.

STRUCK DEAD.

A Lightning Stroke—A Man and Horse Killed—Four Persons Stunned—Thrilling Escape.

The storm of yesterday was marked by an unusually sad an thrilling incident which occurred in the city. Shortly after two o'clock, when it was at its hight, Mr. William Hartje was driving a carriage containing two ladies and two gentlemen over the Mechanics street bridge. Just as he had cleared the structure, and was entering Mechanics street a vivid flash of lightning, was seen, followed instantly by a terrific clap of thunder. When it had passed some employes in the mill nearby observed that the horses attached to the carriage were laying down. Upon going out they discovered that one of the animals and the driver had been killed by the lightning. The electric fluid seemed to have encircled the man's neck, then passed up his face and out through the crown of his hat, in which a hole was burned. His death was instantaneous. It seems the lightning first hit the horse, and glanced from its shoe up to the man who was sitting on the carriage box. The parties in the carriage were too badly stunned to speak or move, and it was some time before they recovered the use of their faculties. The remaining horse, after a short time, was sufficiently restored to be able to walk away.

The body of Mr. Hartje was removed to his residence in Main near Chestnut street, Allegheny, as soon as possible. The deceased was about fifty-five years of age and leaves a wife and several children, some of whom are married. He was engaged in the livery business in the firm of Hartje & Graebing, West street above Ohio, Third ward, Allegheny, and was in affluent circumstances. Throughout the community he was well known and universally respected as a business man and gentleman.

The singular escape of the remainder of the party seems like a miracle. All of them last evening had been fully restored and appeared as well as ever.

Coroner Clawson will hold an inquest this morning at ten o'clock upon the remains of the victim.

THE ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS.

The Board of Controller's in Session—The Salaries of Teachers—The Ratio of Scholars—Attendance, &c. &c.

Last evening, a regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers, was held in the Common Council Chamber, City Building.

At eight o'clock the meeting was opened with prayer, by the President, Rev. Joseph King.

The following members answered to the call of the roll: Messrs. Ashworth, Algeo, Brahm, Krebs, Barker, Beckart, Brown, Borland, Beuney, Chadwick, Dunlap, Francis, Faas, Haney, Godfrey, Kallock, Minnemyer, Moul, Mussler, Moser, Marthans, McCance, McConnell, McClinton, Nesbit, Patterson, Parke, Riggs, Sprague, Trimble, White, Wilson, and President King.

Minutes read and approved.

VISITING THE SCHOOLS.

The Local Boards reported the result of their visits to the different schools. Mr. Kallock reported that Bartholomew's drawing cards had been introduced into the schools as ordered. Mr. Chadwick reported from the Sixth ward that Miss Kate Holmes had been elected writing teacher in those schools. Mr. Barker reported that the colored schools were in a better condition than they had ever been heretofore. The scholars had taken up drawing and had already made great proficiency under the guidance of Miss Harriett Wilson.

Nothing worthy of special note occurred during the month in the other schools of the city.

EVENING SCHOOLS.

Mr. Francis presented the annual report of the Committee on Night Schools, which gave a detailed statement of the attendance, enrollment and general management of the schools during the past year. The report was accompanied by a resolution authorizing the preparation of blanks to be filled out by the Principals, showing age, occupation, residence, &c., &c., of the scholars and sent to the committee monthly.

The report was accepted and the resolution adopted.

THE RATIO OF SCHOLARS.

Mr. Dunlap stated the Committee on Teachers and Salaries had been unable to meet during the month, and therefore could not decide upon a basis regulating the number of scholars to each teacher in the schools. They desired, therefore, that the Board settle that matter. The committee recommended that forty-five to each teacher be the basis.

Mr. Kallock offered a resolution authorizing each local Board to employ one teacher for each forty-three scholars, and allowing an additional teacher in each school where the average attendance for three months would exhibit an excess of twenty-two scholars over the prescribed number: in small and inferiorly graded schools the matter of an additional teacher to be settled by the Board; the Secretary to report annually at the first meeting in June the number of teachers to which each ward is entitled under this basis.

Mr. Chadwick moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Teachers and Salaries. Carried.

THE "UNEXPENDED BALANCES."

The Secretary presented the draft of the act in relation to the "unexpended balances" of the school fund. It was read. The bill is similar to that in force in Pittsburgh.

Several small bills amounting to $16 14 were presented, and warrants ordered.

TEXT BOOK CHANGES.

Mr. Marthens presented a preamble and resolution setting forth the annoyance and expense incurred by the frequent changes in text books in the schools, and authorizing the Committee on Text Books to report a resolution, providing that hereafter no changes be made in the books for terms less than three years.

Referred to the Committee on Text Books.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The Secretary asked for instructions in relation to his duty in the matter of signing warrants for the salaries of the Seventh ward teachers. [This was formerly an independent school district, but finally came into the city system. Several legal questions were involved in this change, one of which was the matter of salaries and who should pay them.]

Mr. Benney moved that the Secretary be instructed to sign these warrants for the regular salary of the teachers and the increase, which made the salaries of the three teachers equal to those paid in the other wards. Carried.

Mr. Kallock moved a reconsideration of the vote passed at the last meeting increasing the salaries of the teachers throughout the city for the remainder of the school year. May and June.

Mr. Chadwick said there had been a great deal of dissatisfaction expressed by the people in reference to this increase, and he wanted it to be placed right on the record. He called the yeas and nays on the motion.

The yeas and nays were taken on the motion, resulting in seventeen in favor and sixteen against. So the motion was reconsidered.

Mr. Francis moved to refer the resolution back to the Committee on Teachers and Salaries, to report at next meeting.

Mr. Beckart, [excitedly]—Mr. President, before we make ourselves any more ridiculous I move we adjourn.

The Chair entertained the motion in view of the probable unpleasant situation, thus timely suggested, but the question being put it was voted down by a large majority.

Mr. Francis' motion was then carried.

The Secretary read the following montnly

BIRMINGHAM COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting.

The Birmingham Council held a regular meeting last night in the Council chamber, Burgess Aughinbaugh presiding.

Present—Messrs. Doyle, Duncan, Atterbury, Schneider, Oliver, Schwarm and Voegtly.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Committee appointed in the case of the P. V. & C. R. R. route reported progress.

Mr. Duncan, from the Street Committee, reported progress. They had advertised for proposals for the grading, paving and curbing Bingham street and Chestnut alley, between Fifth and Sixth streets, but as yet had not let any contracts.

Sundry bills, amounting to $171, were read and warrants ordered to be drawn for the amounts.

The report of the Treasurer, John P. Beech, Esq., for May, showed a balance of $1,637 50 in the Treasury.

The report of Mr. Charles Evans, Street Commissioner, showed that the borough was indebted to him to the amount of $204 42.

The report of Mr. Ph. Pfeil, Market Master, showed a balance due the borough of $215 73.

The report of Mr. J. M. Conway, weigh master, for the month of May showed a balance, due the Board, of $56 90.

The Burgess read a petition from residents of Seventeenth street for a gas lamp on the corner of Washington and Seventeenth streets. Referred to the Finance Committee.

Also a petition from residents of Chestnut alley, to have said alley between Sixth and Seventh streets graded. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Also a petition from John P. Pears, Esq., President of the Gas Company, asking that Seventeenth street, from the termination of the present pavement thereon, at and near intersection of Wharton street, be continued to the northern side of the intersection of Short street. Referred to the Street Committee.

A warrant was ordered to be drawn in favor of Hastings & O'Neill for paving done, for the sum of $500. Also warrants in favor of the borough officers on account of salaries.

Mr. Atterbury moved that a special committee of three be appointed to act in connection with the Street Committee relative to the construction of the sewer on Eighth street.

Adopted, and Messrs. Atterbury, Vogeley and Schwarm were appointed, and on motion the Burgess was added to the committee.

Mr. Atterbury read an ordinance which provides for the measuring of the lumber delivered in the borough.

Some doubt was entertained by several members whether the borough had the right to compel them to have their lumber measured by the borough officials.

Mr. Atterbury moved to make the wharfage on lumber twelve cents per thousand feet landed on the borough wharf, and that the Borough Solicitor be instructed to draw up an ordinance to that effect. The motion prevailed.

On motion of Mr. Atterebry, amended by Mr. Oliver, it was resolved to have an ordinance passed requiring venders of patent medicines and other articles on the streets, to take out a borough license, and that they be charged the sum of $2.

On motion, adjourned to next Tuesday evening; 14th inst.

FEMALE JACK SHEPPARD.

A Precocious Young Criminal—Her History and Last Exploit—Disappearance from Home.

The exploits of Jack Sheppard and those other historic worthies bid fair to be rivaled by a precocious young female who resides in the Ninth ward of this city. The child is about twelve years of age, and seems to have an uncontrollable spirit for adventure in stealing. Upon several occasions she has been before our magistrates, but her youth, and the fact that she was the child of a widowed mother, always secured her release with no other punishment than a severe reprimand. Continued success seemed to have made her bold, and her exploits increased in number and daring until she may well take rank among the higher grade of professionals.

The latest adventure was developed yesterday. It seems that the house of a neighbor near her home not far from the Independence Engine House, was made the object of her operations. The family were absent Monday night, a fact which was taken advantage of by the youthful criminal. At a late hour she effected an entrance by climbing up a spout and thus gaining admittance through an upper window. The house was ransacked thoroughly, but nothing taken except a pocketbook containing $65 which was laid in a drawer of the dressing bureau. Yesterday the fact of the robbery became known to the family, who had returned home.

They had no clue, however, to the thief, and would have allowed the matter to pass but for circumstances which came to light, and fastened suspicion upon the little girl. Yesterday morning she collected several playmates and came down town for a jaunt. The party stopped at a restaurant on Wood street, thence proceeded to an ice cream saloon, and from that to the Market house, the little girl footing the bills to the great glee of her companions. Finally, they stopped at a photographer's, and sat for photographs of each. Returning home the others were enthusiastic in their praises of the liberality of their entertainer. This led to an investigation, and she was charged with the robbery. While a messenger was sent for an officer, however, she managed to escape, and has not been heard of since. The most diligent search of the detectives failed to apprehend her, but it is likely she will be secured before long. For youthful precocity in the criminal line, this is ahead of anything we have yet heard of.

THE STORM.

All Around Town—Freaks of the Lightning—The Resultant Damage.

A terrible thunder storm passed over this city about half-past two o'clock yesterday, by which considerable damage is reported to have been done. The storm was of about thirty minutes' duration, during which time the rain fell in torrents, and continued to fall for over an hour after the electricity had spent its fury. During the time the storm was most violent flash after flash of lightning, accompanied by the most terrific thunder, followed in such rapid succession that the heavens presented one continual sheet of flame, and the rapidity with which the thunder followed the flashes indicated that the overcharged clouds from which the peals of thunder came were at no great distance from the city.

INCIDENTS.

So far as we have been able to ascertain, there was but one fatal accident occurred in this vincinity, but a number of incidents of a less important matter are reported.

Three boys employed at Hutchinson's glass house, on Pride street, whose names we were unable to learn, were stunned by a current of the fluid which passed into the earth near where they were at work. Medical attendance was summoned and they were soon restored to consciousness.

The smoke stack of the Water Works at the lower basin was also visited by the "eccentric" fluid, and about one-half of it knocked off. No serious injury was done to any other part of the works.

A house on Clark street, in the Eight ward, was the subject of the wrath of the Storm King, and suffered to a considerable extent. The fluid struck the gavel end of the house and the roof for ten feet square was torn off.

The residence of Mr. R. J. McGowan, at the corner of Twenty-second and Willow street, was also struck by the lightning. The fluid passed through the roof and down the stairway doing considerable damage.

IN ALLEGHENY.

The freaks of the electric fluid were not by any means confined to this side of the river, but visited our sister city, where it played some very peculiar freaks.

The house of George B. McNulty was seriously damaged. The lightning struck a wooden conductor between it and an adjoining house owned by Mr. Marshall, passed into the corner room of Mr. Marshall's house where a child was sleeping. The child was stunned and was unconscious for a considerable length of time, but was finally restored. Mr. McNulty's house was considerably damaged, the roof being torn off and the plastering loosened.

The wall of a house on Locust street, Fifth ward, was cracked and badly damaged by a stroke. Another house about a square away had a portion of the roof taken off.

A little girl was standing at the window of a house in the Sixth ward when the lightding struck near by. She was knocked down and stunned, but soon recovered.

The water from South Common overflowed and broke through the wall along the Fort Wayne track, flooding it to the depth of several feet. No damage further than that to the wall. Federal street in the vicinity was also flooded.

GERMAN IN THE SCHOOLS.

Public Meetings—Petitions and Action of Local Boards.

A meeting of citizens was held in the schoolhouse of the Third and Fifth wards on Tuesday evening, June 7th, 1870. Mr. Brown was called to the Chair, and C. F. Bauer elected Secretary.

Mr. David Simms, one of the School Directors of the Third ward, stated the object of the meeting to be this: To get the sense of the public in regard to the best mode of introducing the study of the German language in the public schools.

Mr. Luckey, the City Superintendent, then stated that for a number of years he looked forward to the day when the German could be introduced in our system of public education. He would prefer a concerted plan of general action for the whole city and graded schools in German as well as in English.

After a general exchange of opinions and several explanations as to the best mode of reaching the desired end, it was

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed, Mr. Luckey as chairman, to define a plan and lay it before the Central Board of Education. The committee to consist of Messrs. Luckey, C. F. Bauer and E. Luft.

Resolved, That when we adjourn, we adjourn to meet again next Monday, June 14th, at 7½ P. M. to receive the report of the committee.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the city papers.

Adjourned.

SIXTH WARD.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sixth Ward (Forbes district) School Board was held last evening, when the question of the German in the schools was discussed.

Mr. Grede presented a petition signed by over one hundred and fifty citizens praying for its introduction.

On motion of Mr. Case, the petition was accepted and referred to the Central Board of Education, with a favorable recommendation.

The Sixth ward schools, (the most numerously attended in the city,) under the care of the Principal, Prof. Eaton, and the excellent female teachers with him, are in a very flourishing condition. Teachers and pupils now, however, look forward with pleasure to the approaching vacation.

[Announcement.]

Pittsburgh—Its Industry and Commerce.

This is the title of a volume in press, which is intended to supply a want—to bring producer and consumer into more intimate contact. The plan upon which the volume is constructed places the most reliable data accessible to experienced journalists, in regard to the industry and commerce of Pittsburgh, side by side with the advertising announcements of the representative manufacturing establishments and business houses of the city, and of the districts immediately adjacent thereto. In preparing the history of the manufactures, their past growth and present prosperity, the utmost care has been exercised in obtaining and collating facts. A history of the manufacturing industries of Pittsburgh, commensurate to their importance and influence on the prosperity of the city, State and nation, has never been published. The object of this volume is to supply the want. Among the subjects treated in separate papers, prepared with the closest scrutiny, are the following:

Pittsburgh To-day.
Development and Extent of the Coal Trade.
The Iron Interest.
The Glass Manufactures.
Pittsburgh the Producer of American Steel.
The Petroleum Interests of Pittsburgh.
Our Railways, Present and Prospective.
The White Lead Interest.
The Malleable Iron Trade.
The Tobacco Trade.
Boat Building and Steamboat Interest.

The publishers propose to place a copy of the volume in the leading hotels of those portions of the Union which are in the slightest degree tributary to the trade of Pittsburgh, also in the various leading libraries, commercial agencies, and steamboats on the Ohio and Mississippi. The bulk of the edition will be circulated in the States West and South of Pennsylvania, with an ample circulation at advantageous points in our own State and Eastern cities. The volume will be printed and bound in a style not hitherto approached in Pittsburgh. This fact, and the value of its statistical and historical information will secure its preservation long after the usual advertising agencies are consigned to the waste paper baskets, while it will afford to the merchants and dealers of other cities and localities a convenient, safe and reliable record of the representative manufacturing and business establishments of Pittsburgh.

Canvassers will call upon manufacturers and business men for their advertisement during the ensuing week.

JAMES MILLS, } Publishers.

The Continental.

The proprietor of the famous Continental Fifth avenue, below the Postoffice, has succeeded in popularizing his establishment by attention to a few simple rules, the most important of which is the preparation for the guest, of food in season and of the best quality and quantity. Go in at any hour of the day and a meal is ready which will tempt the appetite of any who can at all appreciate what is healthful and palatable. One feature of the establishment is the regular Saturday and Wednesday dinners, with which especial care is taken. Call in to-day ye hungry ones and appease your appetites with the most delicious of viands.
